Growing FAITH @ Home

Family Home Discussion:

Discuss: Why do we use eggs at Easter?

Eggs are an ancient symbol of new life and from a Christian perspective Easter eggs are said to represent Jesus' emergence from the tomb and bodily resurrection. Although eggs have been associated with secular and even pagan traditions, many Christians symbolically link them as a symbol of resurrection: while being dormant it contains a new life sealed within it.

Activity: Enjoy some family time this afternoon with a Easter Egg hunt a little different than before. Make God's Word as the main part of the hunt!

⇒ Older Preschool/Younger Children: Prepare your eggs with the names of the books of the Bible written on them. After the hunt, help children sort the eggs into two different baskets, labeled Old Testament and New Testament.

⇒ Middle Children: Prepare plastic eggs with a Bible book name on the top half of the egg and the book that follows on the bottom half. (Example: Genesis on the top half and Exodus on the bottom half). Toss into a basket and let the children have fun assembling and then hiding.

⇒ Older Children/Teens: Variation from above, write the first book on the top half on the egg, the next book on a piece of paper placed inside the egg, and the following book on the bottom half of the egg. (Example: Genesis on the top half, Exodus of the paper inside the egg, and Leviticus on the bottom half.)

* Insert this week's memory verse, John 11:25-26, in a special egg and have the one who finds it read the verse aloud and receive special prize.
